COMD 2300 – FALL 2023

BACKGROUND

Reimagine KODAK to appeal to younger generations who aren't as aware of the Kodak brand by developing a marketing campaign that highlights the strengths of Kodak's product offerings and contrasting them with the annoyances of modern-day "conveniences". Reinforce the unique user experience that can't be replicated through a smartphone and show the value of purpose-made hardware from an era of intentional photography – where every shot counts, even the accidents.

BRIEF

GET Gen Z and Millennials

WHO grew up around physical media and instant photography

TO relive their nostalgia
and enjoy the romantic nature of physical media

BY experiencing careful and methodical photography
of 35mm and instax film

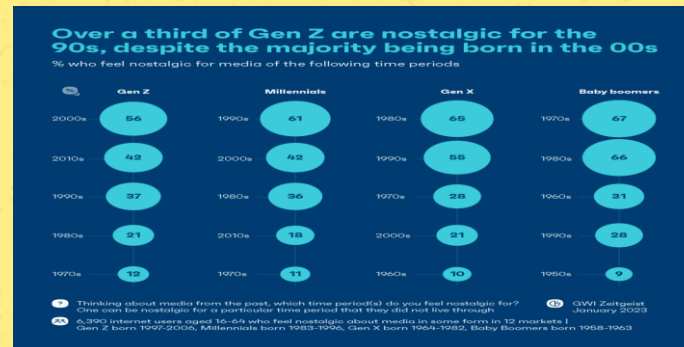

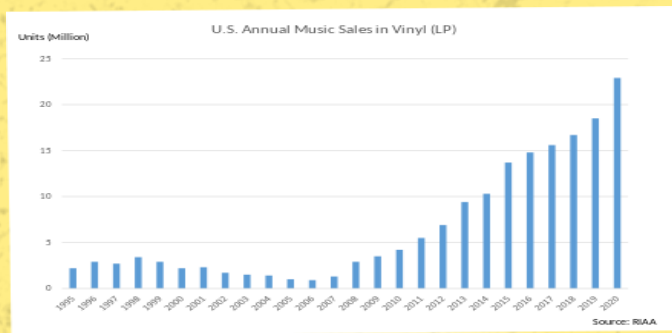

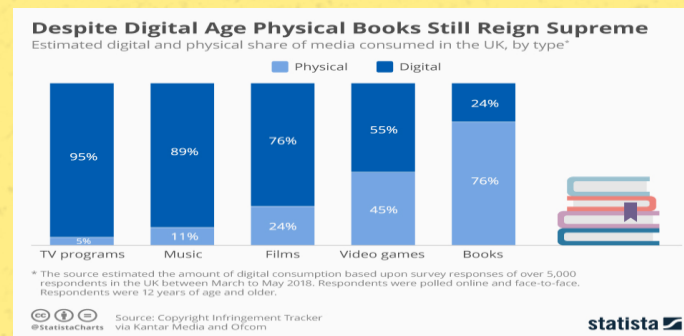

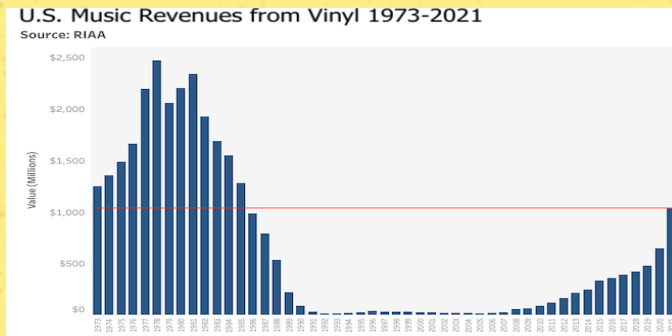

RESEARCH

- Gen Z find themselves MORE interested in times before the 2000s compared to after.
- Nostalgia is extremely common amongst Gen Z (50%).
- Escapism is the psychological mechanism that makes nostalgia so prevalent in Gen Z when compared to other generations.
- Escapism is a means of coping with the negative outlook Gen Z has on life – caused by over consumption of media, constantly being connected via their phones.
- Record sales are at an all-time high since 1986, primarily driven by Gen Z.
- “Reality Shifting” is a recent TikTok trend where Gen Z will LARP as someone from a different era in human history.
- All these factors have been further fueled by the pandemic and Children being stuck at home.
- “Past Life Regression” and “Past Life Regression Therapists” god help us all.
